

Khmer Student Review

www.ksr.csaj-khmer.org

Guideline for Article Submission

In principle, KSR accepts only articles from social science. However, articles from natural science will be considered based on the capacity of the board of editors during the selection process. Submitted articles will be selected and edited by board of editors while the publication will be decided by the consensus among board of editors, advisors, and CSAJ executive members.

1. Submission Procedure

All submission must be online. Send your article via ksr@csaj-khmer.org

Timeline: Submission accepted between March 25 and May 30, 2008.

Eligibility: All Cambodian students are eligible to submit their articles. For foreigner, his or her article must be related to Cambodia.

Requirements: All submissions shall meet the following requirements.

1. Articles can be a maximum of 4000 words. An abstract of a maximum of 300 words is required and should be included with the submission.
2. Articles must be submitted in English.
(Style: Time New Roman, Font Size: 12)
3. Articles must be typed and double-spaced on one side of each sheet of paper.
4. The author's name must only appear on the cover page. References to the author can appear on footnotes on the first page.
5. Article should be in a form readily publishable without extensive footnotes.
6. All quotes and references must be cited. Citation shall be in Chicago Style.

For examples

Footnote/endnote

³Stanley J. Stein, "The Historiography of Brazil, 1808-1889," The Hispanic American Historical Review, 40 no. 2 (May 1960), 234.

Bibliography

Stein, Stanley J. "The Historiography of Brazil, 1808-1889." The Hispanic American Historical Review, 40 no. 2 (May 1960), 234-278.

In-text

(Stein 1960, 234).

2. Selection Process

All submission will be selected and edited by board of editors with advice from board of advisors. At the same time, the two boards will select the best articles based on the following criteria:

- Originality
- Quality of analysis,
- Logic of argument.
- Judgment
- Ideas and perspective

Terms and Condition

The selected articles will be the property of KSR and subject to publication. The selected articles and their abstracts may be published on CSAJ website along with author biographies. Authors should provide biographies not exceeding 150 words to the board of editors on request; they may be edited by KSR at its sole discretion. CSAJ executive committee will be responsible for the compilation and publication.

KSR reserves to nullify the eligibility and recall the prize if there is copyright infringement.